Quarterly Performance Update

The Oaktree Strategic Credit Fund (the “Fund”) reported strong performance for the first calendar quarter of 2025 amid persistent market volatility fueled by macroeconomic and geopolitical challenges. The Fund’s net asset value (NAV) per share finished the first calendar quarter of 2025 at $23.28, down slightly from $23.52 as of December 31, 2024. The Fund’s annualized distribution rate for Class I shares was 10.31%² and the net return for the quarter for Class I shares was 1.54%¹, reflecting the portfolio’s defensive positioning.

Portfolio Positioning

The Fund’s all-weather approach aims to capitalize on favorable relative-value opportunities in credit across different market conditions. Our disciplined, bottom-up credit underwriting allows us to identify attractive risk-adjusted investment opportunities. Our portfolio emphasizes investments that are positioned at the top of the capital structure. As a result, we aim to enhance the stability and resilience of our investments, providing a solid foundation for long-term risk-adjusted returns.

As of March 31, 2025, the Fund:

- Made over $1 billion in new investments, including 11 private loan originations, in the quarter
- Had net leverage of 0.47x,⁵ positioning the Fund to go on the offensive to invest in attractive opportunities as they arise
- Was over 89%³ senior secured, demonstrating our focus on being at the top of the capital structure
- Had a 92%⁴ allocation to floating-rate debt, which we believe positions us well in an uncertain rate environment
- Was diversified across 179 issuers and more than 35 industries, which helps to avoid being overly reliant on any particular industry for sourcing deal flow
- Had an average debt position (including unfunded commitments) of $34.0 million and a weighted average yield on debt investments of just over 9.7%
- Had a median portfolio company EBITDA of $188 million and loan-to-value of approximately 42%, underscoring our emphasis on investing in larger businesses with lower leverage
- Received investment grade ratings by Moody’s of Baa3 and by Fitch of BBB-, underscoring our high credit quality⁶

Outlook

We believe the portfolio's construction should continue to support performance. While interest rates stabilized in the first calendar quarter of the year, they remain higher than recent historical averages and credit instruments continue to provide investors with the potential for attractive risk-adjusted returns.

Credit markets performed well in the final calendar quarter of 2024, as both public and private markets experienced a wave of repricing activity. As a result, we observed overall spreads compress throughout the year. However, momentum slowed meaningfully in the first quarter of 2025 amid increased policy uncertainty, which weighed on both public and private deal activity. If uncertainty persists, direct lenders may also encounter problem loans and higher redemption requests from their private business development companies, shrinking the supply of capital in credit markets. The longer we remain in this period of uncertainty, the more likely borrowers' financial health will deteriorate. This could drive leverage levels higher, push liquidity levels lower, and cause more borrowers to trip their debt covenants. Furthermore, borrowers with a near-term maturity may struggle to refinance.

These crosscurrents certainly cloud our view of private credit origination, pricing and loan quality going forward. A handful of new deals have been signed over the last few weeks, and early indications point to direct lending spreads only widening by 25 to 50 basis points. Such limited widening is likely due to the lack of deal flow compounded by the fact that several of these companies have limited exposure to tariffs (e.g., domestic service businesses). At this point, these lending opportunities are well bid in a market with meaningful lending capacity. Overall, if current market conditions persist throughout 2025, fewer deals could be offset by fewer lenders which could leave supply and demand in rough balance.

In light of the above, we remain cautious in our investment approach but continue to see limited but actionable deal flow due through the strong sponsor and industry relationships that we have maintained over two decades.

Additionally, should the broadly syndicated loan market remain challenged, demand for private credit will likely increase due to an increased need for refinancing capital. We endeavor to structure future investments with the view that it is more likely that uncertainty will continue to be the realm for the short to medium term.

Against this backdrop, we believe the Fund is positioned well for both market turbulence fueled by macroeconomic and geopolitical uncertainty, as well as an uncertain interest rate environment, given the portfolio's preponderance of senior secured, primarily first lien floating-rate holdings. Oaktree has navigated through many economic cycles and gained valuable experience that has allowed us to capitalize on opportunities during more volatile markets. We believe that having ample capital, taking a long-term view, and remaining focused on navigating short-term volatility should position the Fund well to capitalize on opportunities going forward.

Thank you for your continued investment and support.

ENDNOTES

¹Total return is calculated as the change in NAV per share during the period, plus distributions per share (assuming dividends and distributions are reinvested) divided by the beginning NAV per share. Class S Inception Date July 1, 2022. Class I Inception Date June 1, 2022. Class D Inception Date June 1, 2023.

²As of April 30, 2025. Annualized Distribution Rate reflects the current month's distribution annualized and divided by the prior month's last reported NAV. Past performance is not necessarily indicative of future results. There is no assurance we will pay distributions. Distributions may be funded from sources other than cash flow from operations, including, without limitation, the sale of assets, borrowings, return of capital or offering proceeds. Distributions paid from offering proceeds may constitute a return of capital. We have no limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources to fund distributions. Distributions may also be funded in significant part, directly or indirectly, from temporary waivers or expense reimbursements borne by the Adviser or its affiliates, that may be subject to reimbursement to the Adviser or its affiliates, and therefore can reduce future distributions to which you would otherwise be entitled. The extent to which we pay distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations will depend on various factors, including the level of participation in our distribution reinvestment plan, how quickly we invest the proceeds from this offering (and any future offering) and the performance of our investments. Funding distributions from the sales of assets, borrowings, return of capital or proceeds of this offering will result in us having less funds available to acquire investments. As a result, the return you realize on your investment may be reduced. Doing so may also negatively impact our ability to generate cash flows. Likewise, funding distributions from the sale of additional securities will dilute your interest on a percentage basis and may impact the value of your investment especially if we sell these securities at prices less than the price you paid for your shares. We believe the likelihood that we pay distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations will be higher in the early stages of the offering.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE INFORMATION AND RISK FACTORS

Oaktree Strategic Credit Fund (the "Fund") is a non-exchange-traded business development company ("BDC") that seeks to invest primarily in a diversified portfolio of private debt across industries and transaction types, targeting bespoke, highly negotiated loans and private equity-related financings such as those backing leveraged buyouts.

An investment in the Fund involves a high degree of risk. You should invest in the Fund only if you can afford the complete loss of your investment. You should read the Fund's prospectus, including the "Risk Factors" section therein, which contains a discussion of the risks and uncertainties that the Fund believes are material to its business, operating results, prospects and financial condition. These risks include, but are not limited to, the following:

- We have a limited operating history and there is no assurance that we will achieve our investment objective.
- We are conducting a "blind pool" public offering pursuant to our prospectus and investors therein will not have the opportunity to evaluate our investments before we make them.
- You should not expect to be able to sell your shares regardless of how we perform.
- You should consider that you may not have access to the money you invest for an extended period of time.
- We do not intend to list our shares on any securities exchange, and we do not expect a secondary market in our shares to develop prior to any listing.
- Because you may be unable to sell your shares, you will be unable to reduce your exposure in any market downturn.
- We have implemented a share repurchase program, but only a limited number of shares will be eligible for repurchase and repurchases will be subject to available liquidity and other significant restrictions.
- An investment in our common shares of beneficial interest ("Common Shares") is not suitable for you if you need access to the money you invest. See "Suitability Standards" and "Share Repurchase Program" in the Fund's prospectus.
- We cannot guarantee that we will make distributions, and if we do, we may fund such distributions from sources other than cash flow from operations, including the sale of assets, borrowings, return of capital or offering proceeds, and although we generally expect to fund distributions from cash flow from operations, we have not established limits on the amounts we may pay from such sources.
- Distributions may also be funded in significant part, directly or indirectly, from temporary waivers or expense reimbursements borne by Oaktree Fund Advisors, LLC (the "Adviser") or its affiliates, that may be subject to reimbursement to the Adviser or its affiliates. The repayment of any amounts owed to our affiliates will reduce future distributions to which you would otherwise be entitled.
- We use and continue to expect to use leverage, which will magnify the potential for loss on amounts invested in us.
- We qualify as an "emerging growth company" as defined in the Jumpstart Our Business Startups Act, which means that we are eligible to take advantage of certain exemptions from various reporting and disclosure requirements that are applicable to public companies that are not emerging growth companies, and we cannot be certain if the reduced disclosure requirements applicable to emerging growth companies will make our Common Shares less attractive to investors.

- We invest in securities that are rated below investment grade by rating agencies or that would be rated below investment grade if they were rated. Below-investment-grade securities, which are often referred to as “junk,” have predominantly speculative characteristics with respect to the issuer’s capacity to pay interest and repay principal. They may also be illiquid and difficult to value.
